

“Song for Jim”

I love the space; I love the sound;
The sense of you; the evidence around.
The life we shared; so much we dared,
Then suddenly one day we were old.
Another day? Another year?
We take so much for granted, my dear
Another day? Let's find a way
To savour every moment like gold.

My Love,
Through all the years,
We've faced the fears
And shed the tears
And all the troubled times that we've been through Brought us closer, to each other.
My hope, my dearest friend
That we should learn before the end
To live each day as though it were our last
There's nothing more to ask

Live for today, live for the hour
Live for the moment in the present
Here and now
No greater gift to be
Together you and me
And being in the moment
And seeing in the moment
The whole point of each moment
To find Eternity.
